

Contents

	Page
Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	x
Introduction and Background to the Guide	1
THE THEORY
Section 1. An Area-based Approach to Rural Enterprise Development	5
Introduction	5
Food Security versus Income Security	6
Area-based Approach to Rural Enterprise Development	7
Agroenterprise as a Catalyst for Enabling Rural Innovation	10
Section 2. Market Chains and Service Providers: Basic Concepts	12
Introduction	12
Local Service Providers and their Role in Sustaining Market Chains	14
Using Marketing Skills to Reduce Rural Poverty	16
Situation Analysis	16
Section 3. Basic Steps in Developing a Competitive Market Chain Strategy	19
Introduction	19
Designing a Strategy for Increasing Market Chain Competitiveness	19
Vision of the Market Chain	20
A Wider Vision of the Market Chain	21
Market Chains and Innovation	23
Individual Enterprise Efficiency versus Market Chain Efficiency	24
Raising Competitiveness through Market Chain Quality Assurance	25
Raising Competitiveness through Mark of Origin (Appellation/Labeling)	25
Market Chains, Supply Chains, and Value Chains	25
Scale of Evaluation and Level of Participation	26
Considerations When Applying the Method at Diverse Scales of Intervention	26
Observations on the Use of Participatory Methods	28
Summary	30
Section 4. Guidelines for Adapting the Process to Local Needs	31
Introduction	31
Market Orientation	32
Market Chain Focus from “End to End”	32
Coordination among Different Actors to Identify and Develop Synergies	32
Working with the Private Sector	32
Selection of Key Informants in Decision-Making Processes	32
Respecting People’s Time, Needs, and Differences	32
Combining Research and Development Activities to Promote Innovation	33
Mixing Short-, Medium-, and Long-term Activities with Available Resources	33
Identifying a Process Facilitator	34

THE PRACTICAL WORK

Section 5. Selecting a Market Chain	37
Introduction	37
Selection Criteria Used to Choose an Appropriate Market Chain	38
Definition of Individualized Selection Criteria	40
A Methodology for Prioritizing Market Chains	40
Selection Tools	41
Merits of a Pilot Project to Test the Process	43
Section 6. Planning and Executing a Rapid Market Survey	45
Introduction	45
Planning for the Survey	46
Starting the Market Chain Analysis	47
Survey Teams	48
Checklists and Summary Sheets	48
Documenting Results	51
Using Results	53
Feeding Back Results	54
Section 7. Identification of Key “Actors” in Market Chains and Steps for Business Planning	55
Introduction	55
Identification of Actors	56
Differentiation of Actors within the Market Chain	57
Meetings to Convene the Actors	59
Organizing Workshops	59
Sources of Market Chain Information	60
Section 8. Participatory Market Chain Analysis	62
Introduction	62
Criteria for the Analysis of Complex Systems	62
Formation of Working Groups	64
Tools	64
Mapping the Market Chain	65
Provision of Business Development Services	68
Market Chain History	71
Section 9. Analysis of Critical Points in the Market Chain	74
Introduction	74
Identification of Limiting Factors	75
Analysis of Cause and Effect	78
Comparing the Market Chain to the Competition—“Benchmarking”	80
Prospective Market Tendencies and Defining a Simple Marketing Strategy	83
Designing a Logical Path to Increase Competitiveness	84
Visioning—Where Do We Want to Go and How Do We Get There?	85
Preparation of Business Plans	87

	Page
Section 10. Negotiating a Strategy to Increase Competitiveness	90
Introduction	90
Systematization of Results: Technical Document	91
Negotiation Workshop	92
Design of the Final Strategy to Increase Competitiveness	95
Section 11. Monitoring of Strategies to Increase Competitiveness: General Guidelines	98
Introduction	98
Monitoring and Evaluation	98
Possible Factors for a Monitoring and Evaluation System	99
Results on Livelihoods (by Gender, Population Groups, and Economic Status)	100
Appendices
1. Marketing Checklist to Evaluate Key Points in the Market Chain for a Commodity	102
2. Summary Information Sheet: Example from Banana Market Survey	103
3. Outline of a Business/Investment Plan	104
Glossary	106
Bibliography	113

List of Figures

1. Flow chart of key stages in the participatory agroenterprise development approach	8
2. Market chain and its business support services	13
3. Forward and backward market linkages for enterprise	14
4. Stages in the design of a strategy to increase competitiveness	19
5. Components of a market chain	20
6. Wider perspective of a market chain	21
7. Decision tree of rural agroindustrial committee of CIPASLA	41
8. Sources of primary information	49
9. Wider perspective of a market chain	56
10. Triangulation of data	63
11. Process of forming working groups	64
12. Coffee market chain map, municipality of Sulaco, Honduras	67
13. Analysis of critical points in the market chain	75
14. Example of a problem tree	79
15. Simple example of a general problem tree for a market chain	80
16. Complete example of a general problem tree for a market chain	81
17. Using a problem tree to identify solutions	82
18. Example of a solution tree	82
19. Definition of a logical path	86
20. Complete simple logical path with actions and results	86
21. Complete logical path with parallel actions and results	87
22. Example of a logical path for a strategy to increase competitiveness	88

List of Tables

1. Planning, organization, and timing for rural agroenterprise development	9
2. Service providers that support enterprise development	15
3. Enterprise relations: Production chain versus value chain	26
4. Considerations when applying the method at different scales	29
5. Identifying a process facilitator	34
6. Ansoff matrix for risk assessment	39
7. Growth prospects and product types	42
8. Technical and environmental issues against feasibility index	42
9. Organizational capacity assessment	43
10. Assessment of products by weighted scoring	43
11. Results of a rapid market survey for panela (unrefined sugar)	52
12. Actors identified by functional category in the market chain	57
13. Differentiation of actors in the functional category of production	57
14. Timeline of design workshops for a strategy development	61
15. Matrix of the analysis of services received (by clients)	69
16. Matrix of the analysis of services supplied	69
17. Example of production services supplied in Guamote	70
18. Example of production services received in Guamote	70
19. Example of the timeline of the farmer association development	72
20. Incomplete example of a pairwise ranking exercise	76
21. Complete example of a pairwise ranking exercise	76
22. Final ranking of limitations	77
23. Example of a consolidation of limitations in a market chain	77
24. Simple benchmarking tool	83
25. Market strategy opportunities for mango market chain of Ecuador	85

	Page
List of Tables
26. Market opportunities and requirements for broccoli in Ecuador	85
27. Example of a matrix of problems per activity and actor	93
28. Example of business opportunities matrix and investment plans	93
29. Identification of alliances by each stage of the market chain	94
30. Time and resources required to implement a marketing strategy	95
31. Indicators and sources of verification within the market chain	100
32. Indicators and sources of verification of the market	100
33. Indicators and sources of verification of livelihoods	101
List of Boxes
1. Organic cacao and sustainable advantages	24
2. Example of a value market chain: “Las Brisas,” Santa Cruz de Turrialba	27
3. Selection criteria used for discarding options	44
4. Some practical tips for conducting an interview	50
5. Example of an actor typology from Santa Cruz de Turrialba, Costa Rica	58
6. Black pepper in Pucallpa, Peru	96
7. Cut flowers in Cauca, Colombia	96