CIAT in Perspective 2003-2004: Charting the Direction of CIAT's Work

See the latest issue of our magazine-style annual report, CIAT in Perspective 2003-2004: Cardinal Points-Charting the Direction of Our Work. The report features essays describing new collaborative initiatives for addressing three global issues: conserving and using agrobiodiversity, fighting land degradation, and promoting rural innovation. These are the three cardinal points we have selected to anchor our research program in major development challenges that figure importantly in the international agenda, as expressed, for example, by the United Nations' Millenium Goals.
